About Us

Convergence of cultures gave rise to a kind of free-spirited aesthetic which was rooted in cultural mixing and an artistic sensibility... Bombay has always been a melting pot of cultures and its architecture is a manifestation of just that...

Today, when modernity is merging with minimalism, eclecticism and bohemianism .. Bombay Gothic is an ode to the past with relevance in the present...

Bombay Gothic was founded in 2021 with the intention to add art to our everyday lives through a series of relatable illustrated cityscapes of Bombay evoking a sense of nostalgia.

Created by Conservation architect Kruti Garg, it combines her love for the city and passion for art and cultural heritage.

Illustrations

The designs illustrate the iconic structures of Bombay's Gothic Architecture which went on to become the city's Identity. Characterized by the Indian craftsman's preference to elaboration, the Gothic style in the city became richer in detail which makes it unique and exclusive to Bombay.

"Kala Ghoda Kaleidoscope" celebrates the onset of Neo Gothic Architecture and showcases the transition and development of the city to a more exuberant language.

"Victorian Gothic Ensemble" is an ode to the World Heritage site of Mumbai overlooking the Oval Maidan, the front which was created as an expression of the most handsome structures overlooking the sea.

"Urbs Prima in Indis" as the name suggests depict the High Gothic dream of Bombay in the late 19th century. Named after the statue perched atop the gable top on the BMC building overlooking the Victoria Terminus establishes Bombay as the first city in the country.

"The Gateway to India" is evocative of the architectural shift which started changing the cityscape of Bombay from spires to minarets, pointed arches to cusped arches, vaulted ceilings and mansard roofs to domes and the city welcomed the 'Indo Saracenic' architectural style evident in the Gateway of India, the Taj Mahal Palace hotel, the Prince of Wales Museum etc.,

Design Series – THE BOMBAY BALLAD

The Bombay Ballad Collection celebrates this extraordinary maritime legacy through an original interpretation of the historic Toile de Jouy tradition. Inspired by the elegance of eighteenth-century Delftware and toile illustration, the illustrations are rendered in Bombay Gothic's signature maroon against powder-blue nautical stripes which evoke harbour markers, maritime textiles and the rhythmic movement of the sea, providing a contemporary backdrop for intricate illustrations of Ballard Estate's monumental architecture, Bombay's tropical landscapes and seafaring history into timeless objects for everyday living

The Lamp & Palm Mug

Capacity – 350 ml
Vacuum Insulated Suction Mug

MRP- Rs. 1350/-

From Bombay Gothic's Bombay Ballad collection, this 350 ml vacuum-insulated travel mug celebrates Ballard Bunder—one of the city's historic waterfront landmarks framed by palms and distinctive architectural details. The soft powder-blue and white stripes create a breezy, coastal Bombay feel, while the detailed illustration in deep burgundy gives the mug its nostalgic, hand-drawn character.

Portside cup and saucer

Capacity – 160 ml cup capacity
Dia of the saucer – 4"
Material – Bone China

Set of 2
MRP- Rs. 2700/-

The illustration draws inspiration from the Prongs Lighthouse, one of the historic navigational landmarks that guided ships into Bombay Harbour. The design captures a moment when the sea was central to Bombay's identity: ships arriving, docks taking shape, and the waterfront becoming the gateway through which people, goods and cultures entered the city. The surrounding radial pattern echoes waves, navigation and the expanding reach of the harbour, giving the cup a distinctly nautical character.

The Bombay Tide glasses

Capacity – 250 ml
Printed water glasses

MRP- Rs. 1350/-

The Bombay Ballad Glasses celebrate the city's enduring relationship with the sea. The glasses feature translucent powder-blue vertical stripes, reminiscent of the shifting blues of the Arabian Sea, while a vintage red coastal illustration wraps around the base — bringing together a lighthouse, palms and a nostalgic waterfront landscape.

The design feels like a postcard from Bombay's shoreline — a city watching ships arrive, its palms moving in the sea breeze, and its lighthouses guiding vessels home.

Ballard Bunder plates

Material – Bone china
Dia – 8"

MRP- Rs. 2700/- for a set of 2

Designed to be appreciated as both functional tableware and collectible art, the pair brings a little piece of Bombay's maritime memory to the everyday table. This set of two ceramic heritage plates brings together two evocative Bombay landmarks:

Featuring the historic Ballard Bunder Gatehouse, the 1920 gateway associated with Ballard Pier and Bombay's maritime past and the Port trust war memorial built in 1919 commemorating Bombay Port Trust's role during World War I and the employees who lost their lives in the conflict.

Umbrella

Size – 60" dia golf umbrella

MRP- Rs. 2200/-

An ode to Bombay's maritime heritage, this illustrated umbrella brings together lighthouses, sailing ships, tropical palms and coastal landscapes in an intricate terracotta-red Delftware style. Set against soft powder-blue stripes, the canopy transforms a functional everyday accessory into a storytelling piece inspired by the city's rich port history.

Tote Bag

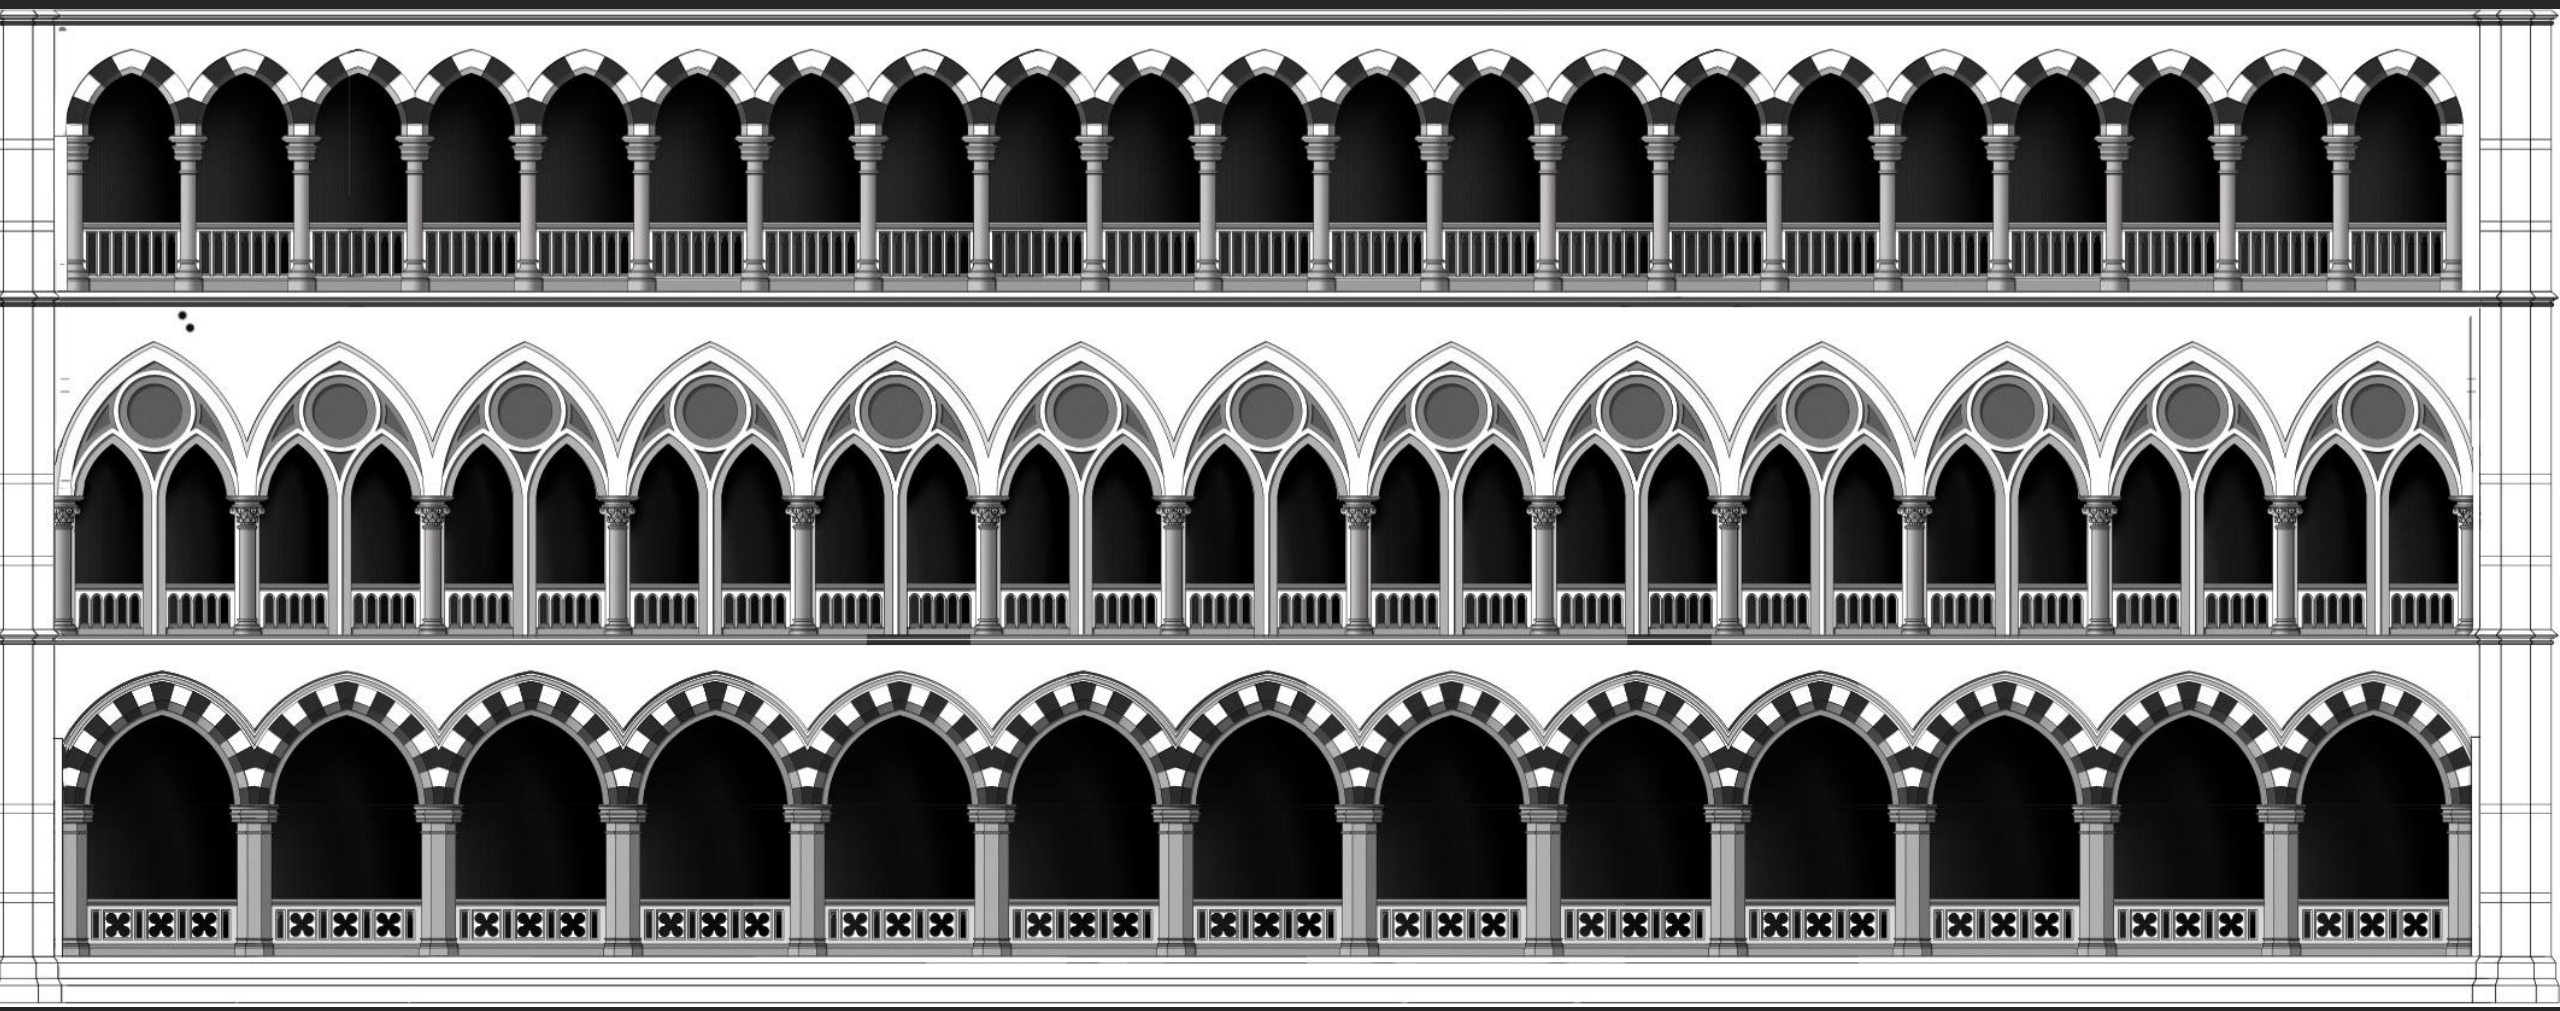

Material – Canvas with faux leather

MRP- Rs. 4200/-

A contemporary ode to Bombay's architectural heritage, the Bombay Gothic Heritage Tote Bag brings the city's iconic landmarks to life through an intricate, monochromatic red illustration inspired by the timeless aesthetic of Toile de Jouy. Finished with a natural ivory canvas body, contrasting tan trim and sturdy handles, the tote balances historic charm with everyday functionality. Spacious enough for daily essentials, work, travel or a day around the city, it is designed as both a practical carryall and a wearable piece of Bombay's visual history.

Design Series – THE LANCET LINE

The historic facades of Bombay as the style of the illustration—with its linear, black-and-white, highly detailed, and architectural focus are part of the latest collection from Bombay Gothic, a brand known for incorporating historic architecture and detailed graphic design onto everyday objects. By transforming functional objects into conversation pieces, this series marries the rigor of architectural drawings built on repetition and illusion, using detailed, monochromatic elements of gothic architecture. This series sells the idea of order, history, and flawless design, wrapped in a chic, collectible format.

Bombay's story has been a love affair of the land and the sea. There's nothing quite like a fragrance to transport you to another time.. a time when Bombay was a group of seven islands and the first meeting of the rain laden clouds touching the land, filling the atmosphere with a mild perfume... to the time when Bombay transformed as the "Urbs Prima in Indis", and yet the surging and the lashing sea continued to touch the shores with a hazy mist of saltwater spray, mingling with the air, creating a distinct and unique smell, the smell which resonates with the city.

The two fragrances from the Bombay Gothic Collection, are inspired by these scents which encapsulate the essence of this city.

Tides of time - This alluring scent with notes of orange, eucalyptus, clove leaf and sea salt, is an exceptionally delicate smell, but at the same time it is immense and unique which is a blend of both, of evanescence and substance, although slight and frail, and yet solid and sustaining immediately resonating with the history and story of the city.

Bom 'Bahia' - In the moment when raindrops kiss the land, is when the magic unfolds and rain-sodden earth releases nature's most aromatic and invigorating scent, a faint incense rising upward. This scent with bergamot, patchouli, white floral and hints of musk captures the essence of the moment in a poetic and evocative way which serves as a sensory metaphor connecting to the city originally called Bom 'Bahia' meaning the Good bay.
